

VRS is a lifeline for the deaf and hard-of-hearing, and a godsend to those (like my sone) who rely solely on visual language. If the service is going to be offered, it should be made more convenient and seamless as affordable technology is developed and introduced.